Dear Mr. Becker:

Your letter of 5 March 1985 to Mr. John McMahon, Deputy Director of Central Intelligence, has been referred to the Office of Security for appropriate action.

We have reviewed the video taped presentations and product data information pertaining to the EyeDentification System 7.5, and find that the Central Intelligence Agency has no current requirement for a system with these particular specifications. If an application for a system of this type were to be identified, the necessary competitive procurement process would be initiated by CIA's Office of Logistics. Accordingly, the product literature and video tapes, which you furnished, are being returned herewith.

On behalf of Mr. McMahon, I would like to express our appreciation for your interest and commitment to the protection of national security information and assets.

Sincerely,

Director of Security
